- Learning Support Materials – A dedicated ‘Education’ section designed specifically to assist CTH Student Members and their lecturers. It comprises of a range of study material, including past papers, module materials, research papers and more.
- Jobs – A developing portal for jobs in the hospitality & tourism industry, worldwide. Part-time or full-time jobs are included, along with details on how to apply.
- Industry news– Access and updates of latest news & events from around the world.

- Web Directory – Whether looking for employers or if a student wants to investigate an assignment topic in more detail, relevant website links are all in one place here.

2 Access to inspiring CTH video content from the Tourism, Hospitality and Culinary industries, containing valuable hints and tips on routes to employment and succeeding in the workplace.

3 Exposure to valuable industry contacts, through our partnerships with Institute of Hospitality and the Institute of Travel & Tourism, both worldwide membership bodies for their sectors.

4 CTH encourage all student members to engage with us on social media, via Facebook, Twitter and Linked-in. Here you can share ideas, communicate with other students and potential employers, plus read about essential industry news as it happens.

In addition, upon completion of a CTH qualification, students are offered discounted membership of either the Institute of Hospitality or the Institute of Travel & Tourism as they go out into the workplace.

The main benefits of IoH / ITT membership for graduating students are:

- On-going career development within the industry and unique networking opportunities with senior practitioners.
- The ability to add IoH or ITT post-nominal letters after their name, giving them due recognition of their learning and stature within their chosen industry.
